

Why you should choose Sage

A total solution

Sage offers you a wide range of products, whatever the size, range or complexity of your business. From accounts to payroll to contact management, there's a Sage product to assist your business.

Additions

The Additions range has been designed by specialist Sage Developers to integrate with Sage Line 50 and covers a wide variety of business processes to suit the needs of specific industries – for example, point of sale technology for retail businesses. We can liaise with the Developers if a tailored solution would best meet your requirements.

Support

In partnership with Sage, we are able to offer you complete support for your software. This might include hardware and software advice, business information and fact sheets, technical support, or other ways to help your business run as efficiently as possible.

Training

In partnership with Sage, we can help with any training needs. This might be one-to-one training at your site, classroom courses at venues throughout the UK, self-study workbooks or online courses. Training can help you and your staff to master your new Sage software in the quickest and most effective way – letting you focus on running your business.

Stationery

In partnership with Sage, we can provide a comprehensive range of business stationery, which is designed to work with your Line 50 software. Making the right impression with customers and suppliers is important in business, and investing in professional stationery will make sure you promote the best image for your company.

Your guide to the Sage Line 50 range

'Sage has a good profile, particularly among smaller businesses, and with very good reason. I find that Sage Line 50 is not only a cost-effective accounting solution but is also very user-friendly.'

Gillian Wood, Director of Finance and Operations, Tyneside Cinema

Your guide to the Sage Line 50 range

With 4.4 million customers worldwide, and 600,000 in the UK alone, Sage has built up a deep understanding of the needs of all sizes and types of business. Software and support are the Sage areas of expertise, and dedicated Business Partners can offer this to you at local level.

As your Sage Business Partner, we are able to visit you on-site to discuss your requirements, to recommend the most appropriate package, to then install and configure the software, and to provide training and after-sales support.

Easy to learn, easy to use, easy to upgrade

Anyone can use Sage Line 50. The clear interface and helpful process maps guide you through each task quickly, which helps cut out errors and ensure nothing is overlooked. No accounting experience is required, and a comprehensive user guide is included with the software. In addition, with three variants of Sage Line 50, you can move up the range as your business develops.

Save time and money, and take control

Sage Line 50 is a complete business management system that offers much more than just accounting functionality. Not only does Sage Line 50 streamline your office routines and reduce data entry, it also promotes efficient stock and cash management, plus helps you deal more effectively with customers and suppliers. Sage Line 50 enables you to:

Manage your accounts

Sage Line 50 makes running your accounts as efficient as possible – freeing you up to concentrate on other areas of your business.

Manage your business

Your accounting data contains everything you need to know to run and improve your business. Sage Line 50 makes this data easily available and in a format you can use, whenever you need it.

Manage your customers and suppliers

Sage Line 50 provides the tools you need to easily and professionally manage customers and suppliers.

Manage your cash flow

Sage Line 50 lets you see how you can improve your cash flow – from highlighting outstanding payments, to prioritising payments to improve your credit control.

Manage your stock

Holding too much stock can be expensive for any company, and running out of stock can disrupt supply or production. Sage Line 50 enables you to manage your stock in the most effective way for your business.
